Boarding Information And Lodging Agreement

Good Hands is a veterinary hospital that also provides boarding accommodations. Our staff is committed to the diligent care of your pets while you are away, and every effort will be made to provide a “home away from home.”

Our boarding facilities include spacious indoor runs, cages of various sizes and multi-level townhouses for cats. Dogs are given three walks a day and all pets are given personal attention and care. Any dogs lodging may be given a bath at a discounted rate upon request.

Reservations are required and may be made by calling Good Hands during business hours. Holiday reservations should be made several weeks in advance and require a $25.00 non-refundable boarding deposit that will be applied toward the final boarding bill.

Boarding arrivals and pick-ups can be made any time during business hours. Sunday evening pick up is available between 6:00 and 6:30 upstairs; however, boarding arrivals cannot be taken on Sundays. There are no drop offs or pick-ups on major holidays when the hospital is closed.

Good Hands does require that each pet be current on vaccinations. Specifically, each dog must be currently vaccinated against rabies, distemper, and bordetella (kennel cough). Cats must be currently vaccinated against rabies and feline distemper. If your pet is not a regular patient at Good Hands, you may bring vaccination records with you or we will be happy to call your veterinarian and obtain the information. If vaccinations are needed, you must make arrangements with your vet prior to your arrival date, or we can administer vaccines here at Good Hands. Bordetella vaccine is most effective if given one week to ten days prior to boarding, but can also be administered upon arrival.

It is the policy of Good Hands to inspect each incoming boarder for the presence or evidence of fleas and ticks. If they are found, a Nexgard pill will be administered for dogs for the weight-appropriate fee ($25.00 - 31.00). For cats, a topical flea treatment will be applied. You may opt to buy a package of your preferred flea preventative for further use at your home.

If while boarding it is discovered that your pet has intestinal parasites, we will treat using appropriate medication.

Personal belongings may be left (at a minimum) with your pet, as well as food and medications, with the exception of bedding. For purposes of safety and hygiene, we prefer to provide our own bedding for your pet. We have a variety of beds available for your pet's comfort; ask a Good Hands associate for more details. Please have all belongings labeled and written instructions for medications. Every effort will be made to return your items; however, we are not responsible for loss or damage.
